Dear customer,

We are proud to present you the Original Romanian GerovitalH3 "Prof Dr. A. Aslan" Cosmetics.

Being more than just a cosmetic range, GerovitalH3 products provide to its users the guarantee of scientifically proven results. Since their creation, in 1956, till now, GerovitalH3 products acquired a solid reputation, due their high value and effectiveness.

GerovitalH3 "Prof. Dr. A. Aslan" is the name of a complete range of cosmetic and geriatric products, which enable personalized treatment according to the specific needs of every individual user.

Doctor and scientist, Prof. Ana Aslan dedicated her entire life to the research of the decaying cells that we call "old age". She discovered the formula that slows down the premature decay and delays the natural aging process of the skin.

Prof. Dr. A. Aslan was the Founder and Scientific Director of the Romanian State Institute of Geriatric Research and Geriatric Medicine in Bucharest, the oldest and worldwide most trusted of its kind. The Aslan Holding International opened institutes all over the world, in Germany, France, Spain, Brazil, Panama, Egypt and Switzerland.

The studies carried out by Prof. Dr. A. Aslan have resulted in a development of a product capable of efficiently preventing the aging process. The GerovitalH3 eco-formula owes its effectiveness mainly to the presence of vegetable oils rich in beta carotene; they are essentially active in skin protection. The active principle, composed of para-aminobenzoic acid and dithylamino-ethanol, contributes to a long-term cellular revitalization; so the formula has a regenerating effect on skin cells. To fight free radicals, the formula includes vitamin A, vitamin E and ascorbic acid with major effects against skin aging. In order to provide effective support where the skin needs it the most, the formula contains carrying liposomes that transport the active principle to the deep layers of the skin.

Prof. Dr. Ana Aslan, the attractive "Grand Dame" of the medicine, who even in her later years looked remarkable, never accepted aging in a passive way. She understood very well how important a young and fresh appearance, is for a person's mental well being. It was because of this Prof. Dr. Ana Aslan developed a skin cosmetic range especially for the regeneration of the skin, effective on a biological basis. GerovitalH3 Cosmetics protect the skin against the aggressive action of the environment [UV radiation, wind, frost, change of temperature, pollution]; stimulate cell regeneration; prevents wrinkles; prevents the premature aging and delays the natural aging of the skin.

"To grow old in a beautiful and dignified way is at the same time a science and an art."
